

CAREER COUNSELING

All students have access to various specialty interest groups (e.g. family practice, internal medicine, psychiatry, emergency medicine, surgery) to explore their interests throughout the four years. Students may also discuss options with any of the Associate Deans for Student Affairs. Once senior students have settled on a specialty, they are referred to that department for further counseling. All of the clinical departments assign a faculty member who is responsible for matching interested students with advisors from that department.
