

Executive Women in Texas Government Membership Open to Employees

The Executive Women in Texas Government \(EWTG\) is a non-profit organization of dedicated individuals devoted to developing and encouraging women in Texas government and higher education by offering opportunities for professional growth, education and advancement. The Dallas Affiliate was chartered in 1996 and began offering interactive meetings with informative speakers to assist members with networking and development.

Membership in EWTG is open to all UT Southwestern employees. In addition to free attendance to Dallas EWTG events, members also receive:

Leadership Training: All EWTG programs are designed to encourage and enhance leadership skills. EWTG sponsored events provide attendees with the skills and knowledge to succeed in leadership roles. EWTG also offers members the chance to develop and demonstrate leadership skills through participation in committees and community involvement activities.

Professional Networking and Peer Support: Whether you need new ideas, a fresh perspective, or someone to help you celebrate your accomplishments or get you through tough times, EWTG's got you covered. Diverse viewpoints from members in state agencies, higher education, and the private sector make EWTG's peer mentoring top notch.

Annual Professional Development Conference: The EWTG conference, held each November, draws participants from across the State. This don't-miss event delivers the right blend of leadership know-how, insight, and inspiration in a combination of keynote speeches and practical workshops.

Scholarships: EWTG also offers scholarships to enhance personal or professional growth through workshops, conferences, seminars, and higher education.

EWTG also publishes a monthly e-newsletter that is distributed to all members. It provides information about upcoming events, new member information, the president's message and more.

For more information about EWTG contact Nancy Northington, Chair for the Dallas Affiliate, at nancy.northington@utsouthwestern.edu.

—from Campus Connect