

Cochlear vasculature as Illustrated by Siebenmann (1894). The arrow indicates the central auditory vein, which when present, may provide collateral venous drainage for the vessels associated with scala tympani.

---

