

Community Prevention and Intervention Unit (CPIU)

Mission Statement

The Community Prevention and Intervention Unit of the UT Southwestern School of Health Professions is dedicated to the prevention of disease through the partnership of professionals and community. We work to prevent disease and promote health by designing and conducting risk reduction interventions, prevention research, evaluation, and training. We value the diversity of our local, national, and international communities and strive to conduct our work with respect and compassion.