

Advanced Anatomic Pathology - Objectives

Systems-Based Practice

Laboratory management within a public healthcare system is learned through daily observations of issues related to performance of daily routines in the laboratory. These skills are part of the resident's routine evaluations.