

General Stores

PRODUCTS, PRICING

We are continually analyzing requests and needs for new and additional items to be offered to you through General Stores. By monitoring incoming products purchased from outside vendors, the General Stores product mix is continually updated to adjust to the trends and technological needs of our customers. If there is something you believe should be stocked in General Stores, please send an E-mail to general.stores@utsouthwestern.edu requesting material to be stocked by General Stores. Please include your name and phone number in the event that we need additional information regarding your request.

We negotiate annual contracts with selected vendors and utilize state contracts to obtain the most advantageous pricing. However, there are times we have no control over price increases. Therefore, prices are subject to change without notice. We are constantly involved in the competitive bidding process to select vendors who can supply quality products at the lowest possible prices. As new agreements are reached, savings are passed on to you.
