

END-OF-LIFE CARE IN THE REAL WORLD

A forum on U.S. Health Care Policy

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 12 -1 P.M.
ST. PAUL AUDITORIUM

Robert Fine, MD, FACP
Director, Office of Clinical Ethics and Palliative Care
Baylor Health Care System

What do people want in the last year of life and what do they usually get?
Major deficiencies of treatment and care in America.

Ramona Rhodes, MD, MPH
Department of Internal Medicine/Section of Geriatrics
UT Southwestern Medical Center

Racial differences in end-of-life care:
Identifying barriers and opportunities for improvement.

Lunch provided for first 100 attendees

HOST:

Raul Caetano, MD, MPH, PhD, Regional Dean, UT School of Public Health, Dallas Regional Campus
Dean, School of Health Professions, UT Southwestern Medical Center

CO-SPONSORS:

UT Southwestern Library - UT School of Public Health/Dallas Regional Campus - UT Southwestern School of Health Professions
UT Southwestern Department of Clinical Sciences, Division of Ethics and Public Policy - DFW Area Health Education Center
UT Southwestern Department of Family and Community Medicine, Division of Community Medicine
American Medical Women's Association - American Medical Student Association - Parkland Department of Pastoral Care
UT Southwestern Department of Internal Medicine, Section of Geriatrics

LUNCH SPONSOR : Dallas/Fort Worth Area Health Education Center

UT SOUTHWESTERN
MEDICAL CENTER