

RESOURCES FOR LGBTQ AND ALLIES

Local Resources and Organizations

Resource Center

Resource Center is a trusted leader that empowers the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer/questioning (LGBTQ) communities and all people affected by HIV through improving health and wellness, strengthening families and communities and providing transformative education and advocacy. Last year, the Center's programs served over 60,000 people in Dallas and North Texas.

The Center is the primary LGBTQ and HIV/AIDS service organization in North Texas. The Center offers operates one of the largest LGBTQ community centers in the United States, with services from youth to seniors.

Through its health and medical services, the Center is a leader in HIV/AIDS education, prevention, and services, always putting itself at the forefront in the battle against this epidemic. The Center provides a full spectrum of STD prevention education, screenings and treatments. Other programs include a low-cost, fee-for service PrEP (pre-exposure prophylaxis) care clinic for HIV/AIDS prevention, and a transgender wellness clinic including visits with medical professionals, bloodwork and prescriptions.

A staff of over 50 part and full-time staff members are supported by over 1,100 volunteers. The Center's additional locations are the Nelson-Tebedo Health Center and the Simmons Foundation Health Campus. The Center is governed by a board of directors and operates through a combination of funds from individual donors, special events, private foundations, corporations and government grants. The Center is open 354 days a year.

Pediatric medicine: GENECIS Program at Children's Health, 2350 N Stemmons Fwy. The GENECIS Program at Children's Health focuses on helping children and teens with issues surrounding gender dysphoria—the distress that may occur when an individual does not identify with the gender they were assigned at birth. Gender dysphoria is frequently associated with mental health conditions such as depression, anxiety and a very elevated suicide attempt rate at 41 percent. Gender dysphoria also causes clinically significant distress or impairment in social, occupational, or other important areas of functioning. The GENECIS Program recognizes the need for comprehensive care including prescribing puberty blockers and hormone replacement therapy when appropriate, to gender non-conforming adolescents. This is recognized as Standard of Care treatment by the Endocrine Society Guidelines for the medical care of transgender adolescents. National Resources:

NCTE – National Center for Transgender Equality

The National Center for Transgender Equality is the nation's leading social justice advocacy organization winning life-saving change for transgender people. NCTE was founded in 2003 by transgender activists who recognized the urgent need for policy change to advance transgender equality. With a committed board of directors, a volunteer staff of one, and donated office space, we set out to accomplish what no one had yet done: provide a powerful transgender advocacy presence in Washington, D.C. Today, NCTE has grown to a staff of 17 and works at the local, state, and federal level to change laws, policies and society. Website: www.transequality.org, 202-642-4542 phone, email ncte@transequality.org

Transgender Law Center

Transgender Law Center works to change law, policy, and attitudes so that all people can live safely, authentically, and free from discrimination regardless of their gender identity or expression. We envision a future where gender self-determination and authentic expression are seen as basic rights and matters of common human dignity.
