

Honoring enduring service – Employee Recognition

June 10, 2024

To the UT Southwestern Community:

Today, as we mark the beginning of our Employee Recognition Program (June 10-21), I would like to express my deepest gratitude to everyone in the UT Southwestern community for their dedication to our mission and to improving the lives of others.

I would especially like to congratulate our more than 100 colleagues who achieved substantial career milestones this year: 59 employees will be inducted into our Quarter Century Club for 25 years of service at UT Southwestern, and 44 current members of the Club are being celebrated for 30-, 35-, 40-, and 50-year work anniversaries.

On June 12, the newest members of that distinguished group will be honored at a special luncheon featuring keynote speaker Charles M. Ginsburg, M.D., Professor Emeritus of Pediatrics. For half a century at UT Southwestern, Dr. Ginsburg has played an instrumental role in shaping medical research and education, most recently as Vice Provost and Senior Associate Dean for Education. The event will be recorded and posted online, so everyone can enjoy the presentation virtually.

I also encourage you to read profiles of our honorees on Center Times Plus now available online. The Employee Recognition stories can also be found in the June/July print issue of Center Times on campus newsstands later this week. It is an opportunity to learn more about this year's inductees and to be inspired by their contributions to our culture of excellence.

As we celebrate our employees, these next two weeks are a good time to reach out to teammates, peers, or mentors who have positively influenced your career and life. And it cannot be said enough, whether you are here to learn, work, or train, each of you plays a vital role at our institution.

The people who work at UT Southwestern have always been the driving force behind our success, as we educate, discover, and heal. Thank you again for all that you do. It is an honor and privilege to serve alongside you.

Daniel K. Podolsky, M.D.
