Message From the Director

Welcome,

We are thrilled to have you interview with us for the UT Southwestern Medical Center Surgical Critical Care Fellowship. Our fellowship began in 1994 and each year we continue to graduate fellows that are highly competent in the field of critical care. We offer seven positions for our first year ACGME approved critical care track and two positions for our customizable second year track. We also offer a combination burn/SCC position that allows a fellow to obtain a certification in burn care at the end of their first or second year.

Our fellowship provides nine months of critical care training that is split between Parkland Memorial Hospital, Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital and William P. Clements Jr. University Hospital. Various electives are available including anesthesia, pediatrics, transplant, CV ICU and neuro ICU. We also offer training in POCUS, ECMO, ASSET, and ATLS. We have structured didactics, research meetings and journal clubs along with various research projects available for our fellows to join.

Overall, we strive to provide the highest level of care for our patients while continuing to conduct high-level research and train the next generation of trauma/critical care surgeons. We aim to provide a supportive environment for our fellows to learn and grow as physicians. We look forward to meeting you and hope you enjoy your interview.

Surgical Critical Care Fellowship Wellness Services

RESIDENT/FELLOW WELLNESS

The Resident Wellness and Counseling Center provides mental health and wellness services to UT Southwestern residents and fellows.

Medical training can be a stressful and challenging time, which may contribute to burnout, decreased self-care, and difficulties with work and relationships. As a multidisciplinary team, we provide support and activities to help you with the challenges inherent to medical training, as well as assist you with achieving your personal and professional goals. When physicians themselves are healthier, they provide better care to their patients and their communities.

We also provide department-level support and education about physician stress, burnout, and mental health issues, including depression, anxiety, and substance use disorders. In doing so, we hope to decrease stigma, increase outreach, and help build a culture of wellness and concern for ourselves and our colleagues.

Mission

The Mission of the UT Southwestern Resident Wellness & Counseling Clinic is to support the wellness of our residents and fellows by reducing psychological distress while enhancing mental health, well-being and quality of life via high quality, confidential, culturally sensitive services.

Multicultural Mission Statement

We accept and appreciate all differences among people, including those of national origin, race, gender, gender expression, sexual orientation, ethnicity, functional ability, socio-economic status, age, and religious affiliation. We believe that valuing intersectional cultural diversity honors each individual's unique experiences, while also enhancing the quality of life in our campus, our communities, and the world.

Services Available to Residents and Fellows

- Medication Management
- Psychotherapy

Surgical Critical Care Fellowship Curriculum

UT Southwestern Medical Center and Parkland Memorial Hospital have a long history in the field of trauma and surgical critical care and offer a strong ACGME-accredited program designed to successfully prepare candidates to sit for the Surgical Critical Care Examination offered by the American Board of Surgery (ABS).

Parkland is an ACS verified Level 1 Trauma Center and had just under 10,000 traumas last year with 3,200 admissions. Our SICU service provides critical care for the trauma, emergency general, elective general, ENT, OMFS, Ob/Gyn, and orthopaedic surgery services (about 1,200 patients per year). As a routine part of our program, we offer our fellows the opportunity to run the Trauma/Emergency General Surgery (EGS) Service for two months to hone their expertise.

We offer a burn track and we are the only dedicated burn center for Northern Texas and Southern Oklahoma. The Division of Burn, Trauma, Acute and Critical Care Surgery has a strong commitment to research with both basic science and clinical projects that provide ample opportunities for candidates to pursue academic interests. We have one-year and two-year tracks that can be tailored to address the specific interests of each candidate.

Living in Dallas

Dallas is the 9th largest city in the U.S. It's a veritable melting pot of languages, cultures, and people from all over the world right here in cowboy country. If you are not sure where to start, check out the events calendar and browse the below list for places to go and things to see.

Dallas Arts District

This is the largest contiguous arts district in the nation and it attracts over 40,000 people to its annual block party alone. Park in the lot at Flora and Olive and spend the day exploring the museums, theaters, and music venues. Then walk over to Klyde Warren Park for a bite at Savor or one of the many food trucks that line the park. There are even free yoga classes in the park most Saturdays. Check the calendar or search #DallasArtsDistrict for upcoming events.

Deep Ellum

Deep Ellum is the musical heart of the city. Over thirty live music venues are scattered through this neighborhood of mom and pop shops, restaurants, pubs, and apartment buildings. In the 1920s, Deep Ellum was known for jazz and blues. In the 80s, it was a launch pad for local bands like Toadies and Tripping Daisy, and today its venues host hometown favorites alongside some of the biggest names in the business.

It's All About Location

Location matters, and Dallas blends culture, music, art, and fun into one big city. There is always something to do, somewhere to go, and something new to see. Jump in, explore, and experience all that Dallas has to offer.

Explore the Neighborhood

Everything is bigger in Texas, and Dallas is no exception. With over 12,000 restaurants, 30 neighborhoods, and millions of residents,

Trinity Groves

The newest kid on the block, Trinity Groves is part of a Trinity River revitalization project that is designed to serve the ever-growing Dallas community. This is the place to host an event at a taproom, grab some sushi with friends, or sample some barbeque while listening to a live blues band, all next to the soaring arch of the Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge.

Bishop Arts District

For those looking for a small town vibe in the big city, Bishop Arts District is the place for you. Nestled among one of the oldest neighborhoods in Dallas, Bishop Arts is home to red brick retail shops and restaurants along tree-lined avenues. View a gallery of paintings by local artists, grab a book and coffee at Wild Detectives, a slice at Eno's, or even a new bicycle at the Oak Cliff Bicycle Company.
