

Acknowledgement of Scottish Rite for Children Contributions to Research

Research is part of Scottish Rite for Children's mission and commitment to our patients, our community and our academic partners. Scottish Rite for Children invests considerable professional, financial, data and operational resources in research. There are a number of ways that Scottish Rite for Children's contribution to research can be acknowledged in publications, presentation and media opportunities.

1. Researchers who meet any of the following criteria should include their Scottish Rite for Children affiliation on papers, abstracts, talks, educational materials, publications, presentations, and media opportunities. These include
 - Individuals who derive research salary support from Scottish Rite for Children
 - Studies that receive support for research project, materials, staff from Scottish Rite for Children
 - Projects that use data from Scottish Rite for Children
 - Projects that enroll Scottish Rite for Children patients
 - Projects that use Scottish Rite for Children biospecimens
2. How should Scottish Rite for Children be cited?
 - List Scottish Rite for Children (instead of "our hospital" or "a safety net hospital") as the study site or source of study data and describe appropriately.
 - Specifically, list Scottish Rite for Children programs, departments, processes or methods that are related to the research.
 - Cite Scottish Rite for Children's contributions to the work and to manuscript preparation.
 - Acknowledgement: The authors would like to acknowledge the support and cooperation received from the following individuals at Scottish Rite for Children, Dallas, TX, USA: (list of names with credentials) (administrative support for conducting the study), (list of names with credentials) (the ward managers) and (list of names with credentials) the (staff members of the study units), for participating in the study intervention and surveys, (list of names with credentials) for reviewing ideas and solutions generated during intervention, and (list of names with credentials) in clinical decision support for partial assistance with data collection. The abovementioned contributors received no compensation for their work other than their usual salary. They have no conflicts of interest relevant to this article.
 - Funding Support: The study was funded by a research grant received from the University of Texas System Patient Safety (PI: name; Research Grant# xxxxxxx). In addition, Scottish Rite for Children provided partial salary support (x%) and in-kind support for the duration of the study (this acknowledges Scottish Rite for Children for unfunded/ non industry sponsored projects).
3. Please contact Public Relations at Scottish Rite for Children for copies of Scottish Rite for Children logos, planning for media releases or questions about citing Scottish Rite for Children.
4. Please also contact Public Relations at Scottish Rite for Children if there is a press release from the research.