

Application for 2019 Science in the City
Saturday, April 6, 2019
T. Boone Pickens Commons/Auditorium

We invite YOU to participate in the second annual Science in the City!

Science in the City is a collaborative project with the Dallas Morning News, led by science writer Anna Kuchment. This partnership will bring more than 450 guests of all ages for lab tours, fun science talks, hands on activities, live music and food trucks!

Please share your expertise and enthusiasm by proposing topics for activities, talks, or tours!

2018 Science in the City event, see: www.utsouthwestern.edu/newsroom/articles/year-2018/science-in-the-city.html

Name of Lab/Department:

Please describe your lab/department's research, clinical, or educational focus.

We are applying for:

(Please mark all that apply)

- Informational Booth
- 20 minute fun talk (TEDtalk style)
- Hands on Science Activity

Please give a short description of what you would like to present.

Signature of PI or Department Lead.

Thank you for your interest in participating in the 2019 Science in the City event at UT Southwestern.

Applications are due by Tuesday, January 22, 2019 at 5 pm.

We look forward to showcasing the great research, clinical work and education underway on campus. As we have certain time and space limitations for this event, we will be unable to include all labs/departments that apply. We will inform groups selected to participate by February 8.

Questions and to submit an application: PublicAffairs@UTSouthwestern.edu.